Congratulations Graduates!!!

St. Leo's is proud of all its graduates, the hard work they have done, what they will achieve and the faith they carry with them. And so we salute our graduates.

Graduating from College

Sr. Tracy Kemme, SC received a Master of Divinity with a Certificate in Biblical Spirituality from the Catholic Theological Union of Chicago. She was selected by her fellow classmates to share a graduation reflection. She will continue to serve in vocation ministry with the Sisters of Charity and as a pastoral associate at St. Leo's.

Matt Rieger graduated from the University of Michigan with a degree in computer science engineering. He will start as systems engineer for Capital One in Richmond, VA in August.

Graduating from High School

Adonete Cimpaye graduated from Withrow University High School and will be attending Cincinnati State to study surgical technology.

Adonette Uwineza graduated from Withrow University High School. She was third in her class and a member of the National Honor Society. She will be attending Cincinnati State to study surgical technology.

Bieveni Hamenyimana graduated from DePaul Cristo Rey and will be attending Gannon University in Erie, Pennsylvania studying business administration.

Davon Elliott graduated from Western Hills High School and plans to continue working as he plans for the future.

Hassan Cimamalamungu graduated from Aiken High School and plans to begin studying business at the University of Cincinnati, Blue Ash.

Lexie Peppers completed Project Search where she gave the graduation speech. She will be working at the court house.

Martin Igaba graduated from DePaul Cristo Rey and received a scholarship to Penn State University where he will study marketing. He also received a Straight A Scholarship from the Anthony Munoz Foundation and other academic and leadership awards.

Rachel Kuhlman graduated from Bishop Fenwick High School and will be attending Texas A & M studying animal science in the pre-veterinarian program.

BECAUSE OF YOU . . .

St. Leo's struggle and its gift is its poverty. In order to continue and expand its mission and ministry to the community and our immigrant and refugee parishioners, we need to reach out to others to help us through prayer, finances, and service. Through God's grace, it becomes mutual blessing.

AND SO WE THANK YOU ...

Many, many thanks to the numerous groups who have been able to volunteer at the Food Pantry and Church. Thank you to Girl Scout Troop #43254, Ian with Boy Scout Troop #482, Liberty Bible Academy, Mount Notre Dame high school, and Moeller high school.

Many, many thanks to our courageous, dedicated volunteers who were able to revitalize our community garden: Coldwell Banker Realty West Regional office, Mercy McAuley high school, and the many church and community volunteers.

If you would like to volunteer for any of our upcoming projects (like painting our cry room, food pantry, laundry room or if you like to help clean up around the food pantry) please contact Amy at akleemanstleo@aol.com.

Many thanks to our Monthly Overhead Sponsor for June
In Memory of Ann and Jack Ellis

¡GRACIAS! MURAKOZE! THANK YOU!

We are deeply grateful for your continued and generous support. Our St. Leo the Great parish community promises to remember you and your loved ones in our private prayer, as well as in our communal prayer, which is to say that we are praying for you all the time. May our gracious God fill you with every blessing!

PASTOR'S PONDERINGS . . .

What I appreciate the most about Pope Francis is that he seems to put much importance on pastoral ministry and on creating a ministry of presence within the church. I am reminded of something that my priest/pastor/supervisor/ said to me in my diaconate assignment in 1978 which was a year before I was ordained a priest in 1979. When he and I sat down to discuss what my ministries, duties, and responsibilities would be, he said, "Jim, the only thing I want you to do is to create a ministry of presence. Whatever you do just be present to the people."

A ministry of presence begs an important question: what does it mean to be present to someone or what is a ministry of presence all about? I confess to you that it took all my time as a deacon to explore this, and it is taking all my 42 years as a priest to try to answer this question.

Any answer that I attempt to give, I have learned by trial and error. I am still learning what a ministry of presence is about, but I understand more what a ministry of presence is not about. A ministry of presence cannot just be about trying to be at every parish event, service, meeting, and function. A ministry of presence cannot always be about trying to please everyone and make them happy. A ministry of presence is not about always being in control or needing to be the center of attention all the time. In fact, a ministry of presence has little to do with my presence and it has more, if not everything to do, with the presence of God.

At any given time and any given place, no matter where we are or who we are with, God is present with us always in our midst. A ministry of presence always involves being aware of God's presence, calling upon God's presence, deferring to this presence, living with this presence, and giving thanks and praising God for this presence. When we are present to one another, we are in the presence of God, and we bring God's presence to each other and help one another discover and appreciate the presence of God in every one of us. When we are pastorally present to another, we love that person as we know God loves us. What would it take to wash their feet symbolically and figuratively? The ministry of presence must be the ministry of parish leadership and of every baptized Christian.

The theme for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati's bicentennial celebration is Radiate Christ. Our Archbishop is calling all of us to become people who radiate Christ. He says, "if each of us is called to radiate Christ, we must be rooted in a strong, vital parish that forms us as disciples of our Lord Jesus Christ at every stage of life and faith." This sounds very much to me like our Archbishop is inviting our parishes to create a ministry of presence.

There are many factors which, when taken together, diminish parish life and a ministry of presence forcing our parishes to be more about maintenance than mission. For example, religious practice is declining nationwide. Fewer people are actively engaged in their faith. In the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, the average Sunday Mass attendance is about one-third full. Demographics in the Midwest are changing. Live births are declining, and the population is moving south. In the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, our resources are spread too thin. Our current infrastructure and schedules were built for a different era. Out of necessity, priests are appointed as pastors sooner than is optimal. As a result, most of our church buildings are grossly underutilized, our priests are stretched to the limit, and many of our parishes are not the vibrant communities of faith Catholics need them to be.

To address these factors positively, Beacons of Light is the name given to a multi-year process of pastoral planning for the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. Groupings of parishes will come together as one faith community. These new "Families of parishes" will be stronger, with the resources to focus more on mission than maintenance.

Through Beacons of Light, 50 -60 parish groupings will become Families of Parishes throughout the cities and towns, suburbs, and rural communities of the 19 counties in western and southwestern Ohio. Pastors and parish leaders will then plan for the future of their Family of Parishes.

Six principles (Eucharist, Church, Leadership, Stewardship, Evangelization, Love in Action) guide the planning in every Family of Parishes. In Family of Parishes, we will grow closer to God, follow Jesus through the power of the Holy Spirit and radiate Christ throughout our lives.

This is a major undertaking, and it must be rooted in prayer. Please keep the vision and purpose of Beacons of Light in your daily prayer. Just imagine people united on a journey of missionary discipleship. Full churches. Joyous liturgies. Priests who have time to be present and attend to the needs of the people. Parishes that are alive in faith, filled with vitality, ready to form people to radiate Christ and ministering with his presence always.

~~Father Jim

St. Leo's Prayer Wall is a place where all, regardless of age, race or creed, are invited to sing God's praises, give Him thanks, and/or call upon His presence for help in times of need. The wall, a place of prayer for all peoples (much like the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem), captures the faces of the community, as well as peacemakers and saints who have inspired us through the ages.

The Wall is a place for staff and volunteers, youth groups, community meetings, and for individuals who pass through our parking lot on the way to work, school, etc., to pray, reflect and pause. We invite you to share in this special way of prayer, joy, and thanksgiving. Praise God! God cares about every need in your life and knows what you need even before you ask Him for help. Our St. Leo the Great parish community promises to remember you in our private prayer, as well as in our communal prayer, which is to say that we are praying for you all the time.

All prayer requests are held in strictest confidence. Send your prayer request to: Saint Leo the Great Church, 2573 Saint Leo Place, Cincinnati, OH 45225.

CELEBRATING SPRING SACRAMENTS

We are overjoyed to share that nineteen St. Leo parishioners received sacraments of First Confirmation and Confirmation during the Easter season! Our candidates and catechists adapted to doing most of the preparation virtually. Thank you to our friends at Our Lady of the Visitation parish and school who purchased the books we needed for these classes. After months of meeting on Zoom, we were thrilled to gather on Sunday, April 25, to celebrate the sacraments at a beautiful, special Mass. Please enjoy the photos, and continue to pray for these cherished parishioners on their faith journeys:

To Everything There is a Season

As a young adult in the 1960's I was a big fan of folk music especially the Byrds' version of the Pete Seeger classic: "To Everything, turn, turn turn, there is a season, turn, turn turn, and a time for every purpose under heaven." I didn't recognize it as coming from the Bible (Catholics didn't study the Bible in my growing up years) but something about it rang true at a deep level.

Somehow we seem to believe that life should turn out according to the script we write for ourselves—and we often leave out the parts that involve suffering, loss, and pain and are angry and shocked when they do occur. My dad often told us that "everyone has his own sack of rocks to carry" that lead us to roads we would not have chosen. Surprisingly these paths often lead to richer lives as we are stretched to enter more deeply into the range of human experience.

COVID has been a great teacher. For a while, at least, we had a sense of being "in this together." We learned to adjust to wearing masks, click list shopping for groceries, visiting and working and Mass on zoom, and considering the health and safety of others as well as our own. And in the midst of this we grieved for friends we couldn't visit who died too young and things we had taken for granted—human touch, lingering meals with friends, being able to travel and praying in person with our church family. Suddenly these every-day things became ever more precious.

Like many others I haven't been with distant family in over a year. My son and his family live in Maryland and I had been accustomed to spending time with them every few months. That hasn't happened during COVID. My oldest grandson, now a sophomore in high school is over six feet tall (He was just a little over five feet tall the last time I saw him). Phone calls have been replaced by texts to him—but not too long or too often—after all, he's a teenager. When we finally get together again I know my hugs will be tighter and it will be hard to let go.

When things return to some sense of "normal" I hope we come to a season of gratitude for small acts of kindness, the selflessness of those who put themselves in danger to see that we were fed and stayed healthy, for the deepening sense of family and neighborliness we discovered, and even the constant hum of cicadas. May the gifts of silence, the melody of birds, the vibrancy of the bright blue sky, the kiss of wind on our faces and the realization that we are responsible to and for each other bring us thankfulness and hope for the future.

And as we enter into whatever season that lies before us may we remember that Jesus who promised always to be with us will walk with us and bring grace into every season.

Jake's Jabbers

There's no place like home...
There's no place like home...
There's no place like home...

During Covid, home was our safe place, our bubble. Family bubbles. Work bubbles. Doggie bubbles. Bubble bubbles! So many bubbles in our lives brought focus to the communities of which we are part. Belonging to a pack (that's dog-speak for group) where our roles differ in so many ways, each of our unique characteristics is essential and useful to the greater good of the community. Whatever the heart, form or identity of the group, our individual presence is indispensable.

Like a performer at the keyboard, the hands work together to form the masterpiece, each having their own pronouncement of the melody. The dynamic (loud, soft), tempo (speed), and touch (connected, jumpy like me, whatever) all work together to create an intricate web of beauty. Be yourself. Stand tall. Shine your light. The bubble depends on it.

Jake's Jokes

What do you call an American drawing?

A Yankee Doodle!

What dance was very popular in 1776?

Independence!

What did the colonists wear to the Boston Tea Party?

Tea-shirts!

What did one flag say to the other flag?

Nothing. It just waved!
